ESCAPE CUT FOR JAPS ON LEYTE COAST

HOPES ARE SLIM FOR NIPPONESE AT ORMOC

BY C. YATES McDANIEL
General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Saturday, Nov. 4. (P)—(Via Army Radio)—Troops of the 24th division have pushed five miles west of recently-captured Carigara, on Leyte's northwest coast, in pursuit of withdrawing Japanese, headquarters reported today.

The Japanese meanwhile landed troops and mechanized equipment from an escorted convoy of four cargo ships at Ormoc, on the west coast, where the final showdown battle may be fought.

Leyte-based fighters fought through Japanese interception to divebomb and sink two transports in the convoy.

The Japanese attempted to break out of encircled Ormoc, but were surprised by American air fighters who destroyed 30 trucks and two tanks.

Column Disrupted
The breakthrough was attempted by recently landed Japanese reinforcements. The column was disrupted, and enemy troops sustained heavy casualties, while considerable equipment and supplies were lost in the wreckage.

The Japanese continued night harassing attacks. Five planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and five by interception. One American plane was lost.

The westward advance from Carigara brought American columns to Culasian Point, only a short distance from the main escape highway leading to Ormoc.

DESTROYER SUNK
Chungking, Nov. 3. (P)—U. S. Liberator bombers, operating over the South China Sea, sank a Japanese destroyer Thursday and left a large transport listing, it was announced today.

Elsewhere, American forces were consolidating and establishing intermediate bases and lines of communication.

With the end of the Leyte-Samar campaign in sight, the Yanks exerted pressure from three directions in the restricted Ormoc area while Allied warplanes and PT boats tore into the enemy's evacuation craft.

Fliers Skillful
The Japanese air force called on its best fliers to protect the ships removing the shattered ground forces, reported AP War Correspondent Richard Bergholz. One group of enemy airmen flying cover for a convoy off Ormoc refused to break formation although 27 of their number were shot down during an eight-hour sky battle. Not a single American plane was lost in the melee.

The enemy convoy was protected by several destroyers and a corvette and at times by as many as 75 planes. The Japanese pilots were "skillful, experienced airmen, definitely above the average," reported Bergholz.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in his Friday communique pronouncing the near end of the campaign on Leyte and nearby Samar Island, indicated the enemy had little hope of evacuating many men from Ormoc. The "final remnants" of the enemy forces, he said, were being driven into a small and confined area already enveloped on three land sides.

Apparently not many Japanese survived the Leyte disaster, as MacArthur estimated enemy casualties had passed the 30,000.

REDS MOVING IN — Spires of the city of Budapest were within sight of Russian troops Tuesday, and the factory belt of the Hungarian capital was within range of big guns of the advancing Soviet army. ## Jap Planes Attack U.S. Carrier Group

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 3. (P)—Japanese planes attacked one of the carrier groups of the U. S. Third fleet Nov. 1, damaging several ships and inflicting light personnel casualties, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The attack was reported in a communique which also told of the first enemy aerial offensive in the Marianas Islands since the occupation of Saipan by American ground forces last spring.

Nine Japanese planes raided Saipan and nearby Tinian Islands the night of Nov. 1, Nimitz said, killing four men. "Three of the planes were shot down."

The enemy flight which attacked the carrier group was made up of fighters and divebombers. Anti-aircraft fire knocked down six of them and American fighter planes got four more.

Nimitz said the attack "inflicted some damage to several ships and light personnel casualties." He did not give the location but the Third fleet has been operating in Philippine waters.

The enemy's attempt to launch an aerial offensive cost him 14 planes in all. The 14th, a reconnaissance seaplane, was shot down by a navy Hellcat night fighter Nov. 1 over Peliculi Island in the western Carolines.

Meanwhile American Liberator bombers attacked four Japanese cargo ships near the Bonin Islands, north of the Marianas, sinking one, setting a second afire and damaging the others.

The bombing and strafing attack on Isely airfield on Saipan and the northern airfield on Tinian was reported Bergholz.

ITALIAN FRONT IS RAINED OUT

British Push Through Mud To Reach Edge Of Po Valley

BY WILLIAM B. KING
Rome, Nov. 3. (P)—British infantry and armor fought bitterly tonight for Forli airfield, two miles southeast of the highway junction of Forli at the edge of the Po valley, while the season's most violent rains virtually halted action on the American Fifth army front south of Bologna.

The British, pushing doggedly through deep Italian mud, reached a corner of the Forli airfield yesterday and by tonight had a firm hold on two sides of the field. Entrenched Nazis, supported by tanks, clung desperately to the northwest and northeast corners. Only a demolished canal bridge separated the opposing troops at the northeast corner.

German troops made several counterattacks south of Bologna today, but the storm and fog-bound Americans maintained their positions. Many Yank forward units were unable to get a full quota of essential supplies because of washed-out bridges over the streams that were swollen to torrents.

Canadian forces advancing up the Adriatic coast were temporarily stalled about five miles from Ravenna by a combination of mud and determined enemy resistance.

ELECTION BILLS PASSED QUICKLY

Authority Is Granted To Extend Polling Hours If Needed

BY JACK I. GREEN
Lansing, Nov. 3. (P)—The state legislature today gave local governments permission to extend polling hours to 10 p. m. and validated the ballots of servicemen who have died since casting their ballots.

Moving swiftly only 67 hours before the polls open for the 1944 general election, the lawmakers passed without change three bills submitted to them by Governor Kelly. The bills, signed almost immediately by the governor, will:

- 1—Grant the governing body of any city or township authority to extend the time for closing the polls until 10 p. m. the legal closing hour now is 8 p. m.
- 2—Instructs election boards that the ballot of any overseas member of the armed services, merchant marine, Red Cross, society of friends, women's auxiliary service pilots or united service organizations must be counted on the presumption that the voter is alive on election day.
- 3—Fixes the hours for the opening and closing of polls according to the prevailing legal time in use in the cities and townships however, communities on central war (slow) time which already have advertised polling hours for eastern war (fast) time are given permission to retain the fast time schedule.

SOONG EXPLAINS STILLWELL SHIFT
Vinegar Joe And Chiang Didn't Get Along, Says Minister

BY SPENCER MOOSA
Chungking, Nov. 3. (P)—T. V. Soong, Chinese foreign minister, declared today that China and the United States has reached "complete agreement" on closer military, political and economic cooperation and denied reports that the U. S. had exerted pressure on China to settle her Communist problem.

In the first detailed statement from a Chinese government official since the recall of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell as commander in chief of American forces in the China-Burma-India theater, Soong said the recall was "entirely a question of personality" that Stilwell and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek simply did not like each other and could not work together.

"The recall of Gen. Stilwell was entirely a question of personality and has nothing to do with any difference of policy between China and the United States," the foreign minister said in a written statement, which he later supplemented in a talk with foreign correspondents.

Cigaret Shortage Investigation Will Be Made In St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 3. (P)—Victor E. Anderson, U. S. district attorney, said today that Attorney General Francis Biddle had designated St. Paul as the "guinea pig" area for a national probe of cigarette shortage and that a grand jury to study the matter will meet in St. Paul if it is decided to call one.

Officials of the district Office of Price Administration, at the same time, announced the start of an investigation, and two investigators were assigned to study retail cigarette sales, said Ralph McCariens, district enforcement attorney.

GREEK TOWN FREED

Athens, Nov. 3. (P)—Fast-traveling British units pursuing the withdrawing Germans in northwestern Greece have captured the town of Florina, only five miles from the Yugoslav frontier, after inflicting casualties on enemy rearwards. Allied headquarters announced today.

SOVIET ARMY WITHIN SIGHT OF BUDAPEST

REVOLUTION INSIDE CITY REPORTED; PUPPETS FLEE

BY W. W. HERCHER
London, Nov. 3. (P)—Russian troops swept within sight of Budapest's spires today with the capture of Sari, 15 miles to the southeast, and 10 other localities, as Berlin admitted "a critical situation" amid Axis defenses on the approaches to the Hungarian capital.

A Bucharest radio broadcast recorded by Reuters said "a revolution is in full swing" inside Budapest, but there was no confirmation of this report, and the Budapest radio at a late hour still was functioning.

Big Guns Heard
A Red Star front dispatch said panicky civilians were fleeing Budapest toward the Austrian border, 90 miles to the west, and Stockholm reports said some personnel in Prime Minister Ferenc Szalasi's puppet government also had abandoned the imperilled city.

Budapest's factory belt now lies within Soviet artillery range. And the thunder of the big Russian guns could be heard in the city.

There was no indication that the Germans planned to spare Budapest, a beautiful city lying on both sides of the Danube, from the shattering ordeal of a vicious street-by-street fight since the capital is a great communications prize on the road to southern Germany.

From Budapest, a city of 1,217,000, railways radiate not only into Austria and Germany, but into Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and northern Italy. The city also is an important Nazi arsenal with one of the biggest electrical works in Europe.

Snow In East Prussia
The Soviet bulletin did not mention the middle Tiesa river front in northeastern Hungary, but Berlin hinted the Russians already had crossed that stream by announcing a heavy assault on Tokaj, wine center of the west bank of the river 27 miles east of Miskolc, pre-war Hungary's fifth city.

In German East Prussia, where the first heavy snowfall of the winter was reported, the Russians announced that Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhovsky's Third White Russian army invaders of the Reich had repulsed attacks by large enemy tank and infantry forces north and south of Goldap, 19 miles inside the Nazi province.

Heavy losses in men and material were inflicted on the Germans, the bulletin said.

Strike Of MESA Called Treason By War Department

Detroit, Nov. 3. (P)—Strikes by mechanics closing 24 Detroit war plants today brought from Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson a statement that they were "striking our fighting men from the rear" and that "such conduct is equivalent to treason."

Patterson's demand that the strikes be halted at once was made in a telegram to Matthew Smith, national secretary of the Mechanical Educational Society of America, an independent union.

MESA leaders claimed the union's entire membership of nearly 20,000 in this area walked off their jobs at 10 a. m. in sympathy with the union's jurisdictional dispute with the United Automobile Workers (CIO) in the Toledo plant of the Electric Auto-Lite Co. However, some spokesmen of companies involved and officials of government agencies placed the total idle at 7,000 to 11,000.

Patterson wired Smith after a conference with War Labor Board Chairman William H. Davis, and attaches of the justice department, budget bureau and Office of Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson. It was indicated the plants might be placed under army or navy control if the strike continued.

Russia Needs U. S. Food For 3 Years

Washington, Nov. 3. (P)—Russia will need American food for about three years after the European war ends, Lieut. Col. Ralph W. Olmstead, deputy War Food Administrator, predicted today.

Great Britain also will need continued food imports from the United States after the war, he told a press conference. Olmstead has just returned from Europe where he went September 1 to determine food needs for the coming year.

It's Time For A Change (An Editorial)

If the President of the United States can dedicate an important section of a serious campaign address to the senseless drive "You Gotta Quit Kicking My Dog Around," as he did in addressing a recent convention of the International Teamsters Union, the following equally silly, but at least partially fact founded word caricature, becomes justifiable campaign material, through the example set by the President, himself:

"A stranger stood at the gates of Hell And the Devil Himself, had answered the bell He looked him over from head to toe And said, 'My friend, I'd like to know What you have done in the line of sin To entitle you to come within?' Then Franklin D with his usual guile Stepped forth and flashed his toothy smile 'When I took charge in thirty-three A nation's faith was mine,' said he, 'I promised this and I promised that And I calmed them down with a fireside chat. I spent their money on fishing trips And fishing from the decks of their battleships. I gave them jobs on the W.P.A. Then raised their taxes and took them away I raised their wages and closed their shops, I killed their pigs and burned their crops, I made monkeys of both old and young And still the fools my praises sung. I brought back beer and what do you think? I taxed it so high they couldn't drink. I furnished money with government loans; When they missed a payment, I took their homes. When I wanted to punish the folks, you know, I put my wife on the radio, I paid them to let their farms lie still And imported foodstuffs from Brazil. I curtailed crops when I felt real mean And shipped in corn from Argentine. When they'd start to worry, stew and fret, I'd get them chanting the alphabet, With these A.A.A. and N.L.B. The W.P.A. and C.C.C. With these many units I got their goats And still I crammed it down their throats. My workers worked with the speed of snails While the taxpayers chewed their fingernails When the organization needed dough I closed the plant for the C.I.O. I ruined jobs and ruined health And put the screws on the rich man's wealth And some, who couldn't stand the gaff, Would call on me and how I'd laugh; When they got too strong on certain things I'd pack and head for old Warm Springs. I ruined their country, their homes and then I placed the blame on 'nine old men'. Now Franklin talked both long and loud And the devil stood and his head was bowed, At last he said 'Let's make it clear— You'll have to move, you can't stay here, For once you mingle with this mob, I'll have to hunt myself a job.' IT IS TIME FOR A CHANGE.

BALLOT COUNTS TO BE DELAYED

Presidential Winner May Hinge On Late Soldier Vote

BY ED CREAGH
New York, Nov. 3. (P)—If the presidential race is as close as four nationwide polls predict, the winner may not be known until the soldier votes are counted — days or even weeks after election day.

Eleven states, with a total of 123 electoral votes, will not count all their military ballots election night. At least three of them — Pennsylvania, Maryland and Missouri — are classed by the polls as "doubtful." One opinion survey has concluded that Pennsylvania's 35 electoral votes will decide the election.

In the event of such a close race, the winner might not be known until Pennsylvania's tabulation of its 250,000 or more soldier votes is completed. The tabulation will begin Nov. 22 and may take several days.

Should the election hinge on California's 25 electoral votes, however, as it did in 1916, the winner might not be known for an even longer period than 250,000 G. I. ballots, will start counting most of the returned ones Nov. 24, but the official total will not be announced until Dec. 15.

Missouri and North Dakota will count soldier votes received by Nov. 7 on that day. Late-arriving ballots will be counted in Missouri on Nov. 10 and in North Dakota any time before the state canvass Dec. 5.

Utah will count its state G. I. ballots election night and its federal ballots Dec. 1. Washington's county canvasses will begin Nov. 27 with the state canvass set for Dec. 7.

Most counties in Florida will begin the soldier vote tabulation Nov. 8.

EPIDEMIC ATTACKS BABIES
Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 3. (P)—An epidemic of gastro-enteritis (inflammation of the stomach and bowels) has caused the death of 296 babies here in eleven weeks up to mid-October. Health Officer Sir Alex McGregor disclosed tonight. He said 420 others are ill.

GAINS GOUGED OUT IN DRIVE FOR COLOGNE

TEMPO OF BATTLE SPEEDED UP ON WEST FRONT

BY JAMES M. LONG
Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, Nov. 3. (P)—The southern flank of the U. S. First army assault swept two miles southeast of captured Vossenack today, overrunning the German village of Schmidt only three-quarters of a mile from the River Roer, next enemy barrier on the way to the Rhine 28 miles to the east.

The doughboys gouged out their advance in hard fighting through heavily-mined woodland under leaden clouds so low that close air support was virtually impossible.

Airmen Smash Tanks
But fighter bomber pilots of the Ninth Air Force, flashing out of the clouds, dealt what blows they could, knocking out three tanks and probably destroying three others of the German armored supply.

Although the impact fell heavily on the German home front there, fighting as fierce was going on in the last hours of the battle for Walcheren island, which will open the docks of Antwerp to a flood of Allied shipping.

The tempo of battle also rose along the Mark river line, five miles south of the Maas in western Holland, and beyond Vaccarat in France, where Allied armies are battling toward the passes which lead through the Vosges mountains to the Rhine and Germany.

The swampy south Schelde pocket was liquidated as the last Nazi sniper nests were cleaned out late in the afternoon, and for the first time since the Canadian offensive broke there 23 days ago that front fell silent.

Guns Knocked Out
On nearly-drowned Walcheren island to the north, the last of the port-blocking big guns of the Germans fell silent too—most or possibly all of them by now knocked out or captured.

Vlissingen (Flushing) was captured. Its garrison commander, Lt. Col. Reinhardt, and a good many of his men surrendered. The rest fled to the east into a triangle menaced by a British-Canadian bridgehead broadening on the east shores of the island around the causeway from South Beveland island.

Just south of the causeway, other troops of the Canadian First army were ferried across the mile-wide inlet and won a second foothold inside the last-stand triangle, where collapse of the German defenses seemed near.

Along the Mark river rear guard line—perhaps the last firm German stand short of the Dutch Rhine from Rotterdam east to Arnhem—the Poles drove a third bridgehead across the stream.

Others were won earlier in the day by Americans and British to the west.

Four Fliers Killed Near Glennie, Mich.

Oscoda, Mich., Nov. 3. (P)—A pilot and three crewmen of a medium army bomber were killed today when the plane crashed and burned 1½ miles west of Glennie, Mich., in the Huron National Forest, the public relations officer at the army air base here reported tonight. There were no survivors.

Names of those killed were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

COUNTRY NEEDS TRIED LEADER

Wendell Lund Asks That Voters Retain Man Of Experience

Explaining that in this campaign he cannot be accused of having a personal economic interest in the outcome of the election, Atty. Wendell Lund, former Escanaba man, championed the cause of the Democratic party, and especially President Roosevelt, in a rally Friday evening in the Wm. W. Oliver Memorial auditorium.

Cecil Bailey, candidate for congressman from the 11th district, spoke briefly following his introduction to the audience by Atty. Torval Strom. Explaining that he is a farmer, Mr. Bailey stated he believes in a Federal sponsored co-operative, and that the government should hold unemployment during the conversion period to a minimum by releasing its war plant production gradually while giving private industry every opportunity to take over and provide jobs.

Point by point, Atty. Lund answered some of the criticisms which have been directed toward the present administration by Republican campaign orators, and at the same time told a crowd of approximately 800 people why, in his opinion, Franklin D. Roosevelt should be elected for a fourth term.

The speaker declared that the Republicans were unable to win by opposing the New Deal in 1936, and that they failed again in 1940 when they tried accepting a part of it. Now, said Mr. Lund, the Republicans are trying to win by accepting the achievements of the New Deal "en toto", only they claim the Democrats did not go far enough and they will go farther.

Atty. Lund remarked that few if any opposing campaigners claim that the war is not being conducted in the best possible manner, neither is there criticism regarding the way in which war material has been produced. The speaker credited President Roosevelt, who, he said, has shown his greatness by drafting the best minds of management and labor regardless of politics, to work in those agencies.

Referring to an alleged claim that the President did not adequately prepare the country for war, Atty. Lund said the men who now are making that statement are the same ones who voted against lend-lease, against trading our destroyers for air bases, and against appropriations for ships, tanks and supplies.

The ships of General Halsey which now are winning such signal successes, the speaker continued, were being built or were in the planning stage before Pearl Harbor.

Mr. Lund contrasted the administration record of "preparing for war in the face of great obstacles" with "the other record, one of opposition."

"We need President Roosevelt!" the former Escanaban concluded. "To help make as enduring a peace as nations and men can agree on. Who do you think will represent Great Britain? Will it be a newcomer, a novice, or will it be Churchill? Who should represent the United States? A young man who lacks comprehension of foreign affairs, or will it be a tried, respected, beloved Franklin Delano Roosevelt?"

Candidates on the Democratic ticket for county offices occupied places on the rostrum, and were introduced.

News From Men In The Service

Harding Field, La. — M/Sgt. Mark Fassbender, of Escanaba, Mich., arrived at base headquarters last week to take over the duties vacated by T/Sgt. Jack Greenup as base sergeant major. Sgt. Greenup was transferred to a new assignment at another base.

Arriving at the field early in October of last year as sergeant major of a fighter group, Sgt. Fassbender continued in that capacity until the group was combined with other groups to form the present base unit.

Assigned to ground training as chief clerk when that department was formed, the new sergeant major was instrumental in setting up an efficient office for the supervision of ground training.

He was employed as assistant manager of a department store until 1940 when he enlisted in the Air Corps and has served as sergeant major of the 394th Technical School Squadron at Keesler Field. His wife resides at 4040 North Highland, Baton Rouge, La.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaBumard of Rapid River of the promotion of their son, Warrant Officer Keith LaBumard, to chief warrant officer. He has been transferred from London to Paris.

Cpl. Ralph LaChance, son of Fred LaChance of Rapid River, has won the right to wear wings and boots of the U. S. Army Paratroopers. He has completed four weeks of jump training during which time he made five jumps, the last a tactical jump at night involving a combat problem on landing.

Jumping at the parachute school has been steadily developed to a recognized war science. In addition to producing jumpers, parachute specialist training is given to qualified men in communications, demolition, riggers and parachute maintenance, vital skills for airborne troops.

Another Escanaba man who has won his wings and boots is Sgt. Bruce Little, son of Mrs. Joseph Little, 1514 North 19th street.

PO 2/c Kenneth E. Collins, 22, of the U. S. Navy, who has been in the Pacific battle area for 14 months, has forwarded to his home in Escanaba a souvenir of the battle of Guam—Japanese knee mortar. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Collins of 113 North 14th street.

The Japanese knee mortar is designed to be held against the thigh and fired by pulling a trigger, which throws an explosive shell upwards to 650 yards. The mortar weighs 12 pounds.

BAN ON FRENCH MAIL IS LIFTED

Postal Service Resumed; Frozen Funds In U. S. Freed

Washington, Nov. 3 (AP)—This country lifted its ban on free exchange of business and personal information with France today, as a preliminary step toward reopening trade with that nation.

Five-cent postal service will be started tomorrow, said the post office department. The United States, in co-ordination with the British Empire, officially removed liberated areas of France from the category of "enemy territory."

Treasury officials, announcing the restoration of commercial communications, disclosed that the De Gaulle government now is being permitted to use freely its "frozen" funds in this country.

For the present, private French assets in this country still will not be accessible, generally speaking, to the French individuals and companies owning them.

Nor will private trade or financial transactions be allowed, except that remittances for the support of an individual may be sent to France through banking channels, not more than $500 a month.

As for communications, starting tomorrow you can send a letter, up to one ounce, to any part of continental France except the territory of Belfort and the departments of Doubs, Meurthe-et-Moselle, Meuse, Mosell, Bas-Rhin, Haut-Rhin, Haute-Saone, and Vosges.

The letter can be on either business or personal matters. You can also send a cable. Up to now only postcards, unillustrated and on personal and family matters, have been permitted.

Without a license, American and French firms now can establish business contacts, exchange information, financial records, and commercial reports. Creditors may get in touch with their debtors. However, treasury licenses will not be granted for the present for sending powers of attorney, executed proxies, payment instructions and other communications which are transactional in nature.

ing to fire the Jap knee mortars, had their legs fractured by the recoil, and the Yanks thereupon dubbed them "knee breakers." The American counterpart of the Jap knee mortar is the much superior bazook.

Recently returned to San Francisco, PO 2/c Collins expects to come to Escanaba on leave in about two weeks. He has been in the navy since October, 1942.

ORE SHIPMENTS REMAIN STEADY

Movement Of Cargoes To Continue Through November

Shipments of iron ore from the Escanaba docks totaled 757,167 tons during the month of October. Favorable weather during the month enabled boats to move on fairly regular schedule.

While last month's tonnage is under that of a year ago, it nevertheless represents a good volume for October. In 1943, when shipments reached an all time record, 857,872 tons of ore were loaded from this port.

It is expected that shipment of ore cargoes will be maintained during most of the current month. At the close of the navigation season approximately five and three-fourths million tons will have been shipped.

A few of the smaller boats already are tying up for the season, but the larger vessels will continue to make their regular trips.

The Roving Reporter

By ERNIE PYLE

Editor's Note: This is the 44th of the Ernie Pyle war dispatches that are being reprinted while Ernie is on leave.

Normandy Beachhead, D Day Plus Two, June, 1944—I took a walk along the historic coast of Normandy in the country of France.

It was a lovely day for strolling along the sea-shore. Men were sleeping on the sand, some of them sleeping for ever. Men were floating in the water, but they didn't know they were in the water, for they were dead.

The water was full of squishy little jellyfish about the size of your hand. Millions of them. In the center each of them had a green design exactly like a four-leaf clover. The good-luck emblem. Sure. Hell yes.

I walked for a mile and a half along the water's edge of our many-miled invasion beach. You wanted to walk slowly, for the detail on that beach was infinite.

The wreckage was vast and startling. The awful waste and destruction of war, even aside from the loss of human life, has always been one of its outstanding features to those who are in it. Anything and everything is expendable. And we did expend on our beachhead in Normandy during those first few hours.

For a mile out from the beach there were scores of tanks and trucks and boats that you could no longer see, for they were at the bottom of the water—swamped by overloading, or hit by shells or sunk by mines. Most of their crews were lost.

You could see trucks tipped half over and swamped. You could see partly sunken barges, and the angled-up corners of jeeps, and small landing craft half submerged. And at low tide you could still see those vicious six-pronged iron snares that helped snag and wreck them.

On the beach itself, high and dry, were all kinds of wrecked vehicles. There were tanks that had only just made the beach before being knocked out. There were jeeps that had burned to a dull gray. There were big derricks on caterpillar treads that didn't quite make it. There were half-tracks carrying office equipment that had been made into a shambles by a single shell hit, their interiors still holding their useless equipment of smashed typewriters, telephones, office files.

There were LCT's turned completely upside down, and lying on their backs, and how they got that way I don't know. There were boats stacked on top of each other, their sides caved in, their suspension doors knocked off.

In this shoreline museum of carnage there were abandoned rolls of barbed wire and smashed bulldozers and big stacks of thrown-away lifebelts and piles of shells still waiting to be moved. In the water floated empty life rafts and soldiers' packs and ration boxes, and mysterious oranges.

On the beach lay snarled rolls of telephone wire and big rolls of steel matting and stacks of broken rusting rifles.

On the beach lay, expended, sufficient men and mechanism for a small war. They were gone forever now. And yet we could afford it.

We could afford it because we were on, we had our foothold, and behind us there were such enormous replacements for this wreckage on the beach that you could hardly conceive of their sum total. Men and equipment were flowing from England in such a gigantic stream that it made the waste on the beachhead seem like nothing at all, really nothing at all.

A few hundred yards back on the beach is a high bluff. Up there we had a tent hospital, and a barbed wire enclosure for prisoners of war. From up there you could see far up and down the beach, in spectacular crows'-nest view, and far out to sea.

And standing out there on the beach beyond all this wreckage was the greatest armada man has ever seen. You simply could not believe the gigantic collection of ships that lay out there waiting to unload.

Looking from the bluff, it lay thick and clear to the far horizon of the sea and on beyond, and it spread out to the sides and was miles wide. Its utter enormity would move the hardest man.

As I stood up there I noticed a group of freshly taken German prisoners standing nearby. They had not yet been put in the prison cage. They were just standing there, a couple of toughboys leisurely guarding them with Tommy guns.

The prisoners too were looking out to sea—the same bit of sea that for months and years had been so safely empty before their gaze. Now they stood staring almost as if in a trance.

They didn't say a word to each other. They didn't need to. The expression on their faces was something forever unforgettable. In it was the final horrified acceptance of their doom.

If only all Germany could have had the rich experience of standing on the bluff and looking out across the water and seeing what their compatriots saw.

Will Act Today

MEMBERS of the Michigan state legislature will meet in special session at Lansing today, not only to enact special legislation, to legalize the extension of voting hours in congested centers of the state, at the election of next Tuesday, but to affirm the legislature's support of a recent decision by Atty. General Herbert J. Rushton, who held that a soldier's ballot can be counted, unless there is official evidence that the voter lost his life, between the time he filled out his ballot, and election day. That decision was severely criticized in some sections of the state, but the fact that the legislature today will lend its affirmation to an interpretation of the state's voting laws that has maintained for many years in Michigan, will serve to emphasize the sound law upon which the attorney general's opinion was based.

Authority will also be given today by the legislature to permit election boards of Wayne county and other elector congested voting districts of the state, to extend the hour of closing the polls to 10 o'clock on Tuesday night, instead of the usual closing hour of eight o'clock. The necessity for such action will be left to the discretion of local election commissions and it is expected that this discretion will be exercised in few voting precincts outside of Wayne county.

To permit longer voting hours in a district that is admittedly strongly CIO-NEW DEALISH and also probably anti-Kelly, the unselfish action of Gov. Harry Kelly, in calling today's special legislative session, should constitute another chapter in his record of responsiveness to public need, and efficient service to the people, such as characterized his entire administration.

The Monitor's Conclusion

THE Christian Science Monitor, on its Wednesday editorial page, outlines the considerations which prompted its decision to advocate the election of Governor Dewey as the new president of the United States.

The Monitor has long been recognized by everyone as a truly independent, non-partisan and fair-minded newspaper. Its conclusion that the nation would fare better under Dewey was arrived at after much careful study of all factors involved. Consequently, its advocacy of the defeat of President Roosevelt for a fourth term is about the best campaign material the Republicans could obtain.

The Monitor expresses the belief that long tenure of office smothers alternative leadership. It tends to harden old animosities and administrative conflicts, to take a president more and more out of touch with the people, and to develop a "papa-knows-best" attitude which is the antithesis of democracy, the newspaper editorial points out. On foreign policy, the Monitor, one of the first to warn of isolationism and appeasement, says there is increasing evidence that the administrative confusions and conflicts of the Roosevelt regime are bungling the actual conduct of American relations with other nations. Particularly, it points out that the Morgenthau plan for German industry greatly stiffened German resistance. It also refers to the appointments of Robert Murphy as chief adviser to General Eisenhower on Germany and Jefferson Caffery as ambassador to France as disturbing signs of reactionary influence on our foreign policy.

Discussing the domestic issues, the Monitor expresses deep concern over the "trend toward regimentation and socialization" which the New Deal greatly speeded. In conclusion, the editorial declares:

"We believe that on domestic issues the vast majority of Americans would not think of a fourth term. Those who believe that the differences between candidates and parties on foreign policies override all other considerations are entitled to their own judgment. For ourselves we find that the weighing of issues brings us to a clear conclusion—that changing horses is the best way to get across the streams ahead."

Casualties Mount

DURING the past week, an unusually large number of Delta county homes have been saddened by the news of casualties from Holland, Germany and other war fronts.

The tempo of fighting has been stepped up in both the European and Pacific war theaters, and unfortunately it must be accepted that there will be an accelerated rate of casualties before the end of hostilities arrives.

It was shocking news for many to learn that the Americans alone have suffered 90,000 casualties in the 14 months of fighting in Italy and that the Germans are still firmly entrenched in that area. In other war theaters we also have suffered heavily, the latest report showing our casualties standing at a total of 487,692 killed, wounded, missing and prisoners of war. This figure is already twice the number of casualties suffered by the American forces in the first World war. Then, of course, our fighting was concentrated in France, and we had only four million men in the armed forces as compared with upwards of 13 million in this global conflict. The magnitude of World War II, with its dire possibilities, should make us realize that the need for buying War Bonds, contributing to the War Fund and Red Cross, and participating in other home front activities is much greater than ever before.

They're Going Hunting

THE Michigan Conservation department predicts on the basis of counts made in various areas that deer hunters will have better luck during the coming season, which will open on Nov. 15.

Last season, 66,169 bucks were taken by licensed hunters, and indications are that this figure will be exceeded this season. It is not only that there are more deer in the woods, but the signs point toward a larger number of hunters who will take to the woods in the quest for the white-tails.

Resorts report an increased number of inquiries. Reservations are being made for hunting camps much earlier, and much interest is being shown by out-of-state hunters. Deer hunting each fall brings a veritable windfall of business to Upper Peninsula stores, restaurants and service stations, particularly those located in backwoods areas. It is a type of tourist business that has been stable in wartime, quite in contrast with the marked decline in summer recreational travel. The hunter just insists upon getting away for his annual hunting trip, and he always manages to make it.

Other Editorial Comments

WAYNE AMENDMENT (Iron Mountain News)

The sponsors of the Wayne county home rule amendment have filed petitions sufficiently signed to assure that it will be presented to the state in November. It is an amendment the voters should bear in mind throughout the canvass. It is one they may very well support. There is no doubt it will be given a majority in Wayne. But when its counterpart was last submitted it was defeated out in the state.

Inasmuch as no county out in the state was affected by the amendment, there was no rhyme or reason in its defeat by voters not directly interested. The reason they defeated it is to be found in the organized effort of those opposed to any change in the present form of county government to build up opposition to the proposal. They feared that if Wayne got home rule and early proved that it could get better and more economical government than it could get under the state law, which provides for uniform county government, interest in reform of this government would develop rapidly. They feared that, as a result, there would be at early date support for an amendment that would permit all the counties to share in the benefits Wayne had shown could be had if the shackles of the present law were thrown off.

The Wayne county home rule amendment should be supported out in the state. It goes no further than to permit Wayne to experiment in reform of county government. If its experiments come to no good, only Wayne can suffer. If, on the other hand, they show that the plan adopted in Wayne yields good results, the other counties can, and will be emboldened to, strike out for reforms that will promise them better government for less money.

All the voters not at the public trough should desire such government. They should be warned, betimes, against the blandishments of those who profit personally from continuance of the present system, and who will stand out to the last against any proposals for reform.

RESOLVED: That we recommend to Christian voters of Michigan a study of Proposal No. 2, on the state ballot Nov. 3, providing permission to Wayne County alone to reorganize its plan of county government, subject to provisions prescribed in the constitutional amendment, and that we advise Christian citizens to endorse this amendment, as a means of better fixing of responsibility, tending toward better enforcement of law, and also as a long step toward more democratic administration of government in the Detroit industrial area.

COLOR YOUR OWN (Grand Rapids Press)

The National Association of Margarine Manufacturers is chivalrously indignant because the United States government—the old meanie!—sends every bit of colored margarine out of the country in lend-lease shipments and makes American women do their own coloring.

The association has figured right down to the last man-hour (or should we say woman-hour?) just how much time the housewives of America waste in blending coloring powder into margarine. It takes at least ten minutes per pound, according to the statisticians, and that, applied to the number of pounds of margarine used in the United States last year, adds up to 72,000,000 work hours.

But that isn't all. The wastage of margarine that adheres to forks, spoons and mixing bowls is estimated at 2½ per cent, or 11,000,000 pounds a year. And this despite a serious fat shortage, to combat which the very same housewives are saving kitchen drippings.

The margarine manufacturers don't like this discrimination in favor of the lend-lease customers. They say they could color margarine for American women better, quicker and more cheaply than they can do it themselves—if the government would only let them. A bill pending before congress would remove this and other restrictions from margarine.

World Events Analyzed

BY LESLIE BAIN

Romania once again has managed to escape from a tight corner with good reasons to rejoice. This is the fourth war in recent years which Romania turned into a good thing, regardless of the side she fought with. Although the final peace treaties may be years away, the armistice granted by the Allies clearly implied that Transylvania will be given to Romania. Thus, one of the bitterest feuds in all Europe is re-opened.

Transylvania has been a bone of contention between Romania and Hungary since the turn of the century. From the beginning of the 9th century until 1918, the territory was a part of Hungary. Sometimes a reluctant part, for more often than not the Transylvanians fought bitterly against their Hungarian lords. But giving Transylvania to Romania makes even less sense than returning it to Hungary, for curiously, neither the Hungarians nor the Romanians have a valid claim on the province and both nationals are in minority in the disputed area. But no one seems to bother about the real owners of Transylvania.

—WHO ARE THEY?—

Who are the Transylvanians? When Attila, the scourge of God, broke into Europe with his Huns, he inundated the Danubian valley and at one time extended his rule as far as Italy and France. He died in an encampment along the Danube and half of his tribes returned to Mongolia. Those who remained settled in Transylvania. Thus the inhabitants of Transylvania are the original Huns, now known as the Szekelys.

Some hundred years after the death of Attila, a brother race of the Huns, called the Magors, reached the Danube. These Magors were the Hungarians. The rich valleys of the Danube were much to their liking and the seven Hungarian tribes under their leader Arpad decided to settle down. The Szekelys were glad to have their brothers as neighbors and helped them in their quest to conquer Pannonia, the ancient name of Hungary, and the two races lived together for awhile harmoniously.

But soon the Hungarian lords in the name of brotherly love, began to exploit and suppress the Szekelys, which led to a series of revolutions and wars between them. Throughout the middle ages, the Szekelys fought valiantly under their democratically-elected kings against the Hungarians, Turks and Tartars. Two of their kings became known all over Europe. They were Rakoczy and Batory, the latter at one time was also king of Poland. However, no matter how well they fought, in the end the Szekelys were always defeated, either by the Hungarians or the Austrians aided by the Hungarians. This, briefly, is the story behind Hungary's claim to Transylvania.

—CREATED CENTURY AGO—

Now as for Romania's claim, about a hundred years ago principalities south of the Carpathian mountains, such as Moldavia, Wallachia and others, taking advantage of the decline of the Turkish empire and encouraged by the major powers, created Romania. Previously, the territory of Romania was under Turkish suzerainty and many poor shepherds and peasants escaped from their cruel masters across the Carpathians and settled in Transylvania among the Szekelys. This exodus of Romanians continued even after Turkish withdrawal from Europe, for the boyars (Romanian lords) weren't much better than the Turkish pashas. Thus Transylvania acquired a considerable Romanian population.

The Hungarian rulers of Transylvania tried forcibly to Hungarianize the Romanian immigrants and when they fought back, were ruthlessly suppressed and persecuted. This culminated in an appeal to Romania for protection and of course, the Romanians lost no time in putting in their claim for the entire Transylvania province.

Now the poor Szekelys, who despite their Hungarian veneer have retained their racial unity, are again shunted around like pawns in a chess game, and there is little likelihood of any improvement in their lot until a federation of truly free nations is established to include all the races living in central Europe and the Balkans.

Take My Word For it . . . Frank Colby

Q. We have had a discussion about "It is me." A graduate of the University of Indiana contends it is correct. Will you please defend us who say, "It is I?"—M. C. H.

A. To be sure is: After any form of the verb "to be," use I, he, she, we, they, thus: It is I; it was he; it could have been she; it may have been we; these are they, etc.

From the standpoint of grammar, "It is me" is incorrect. But it frequently occurs in colloquial usage. And, in unguarded moments, even purists will occasionally say the naughty words.

Late one night, while crossing the campus, the president of a small college heard loud singing and laughter coming from one of the dormitories. Shocked at this infraction of the rules, he entered and pounded on the door. One of the boys called out, "Who is it?"

"It's me, the president. Open the door at once!"

"Tell it to the marines," was the reply. "Old Pickle-puss would have said, 'It is I.'"

The personal pronouns are as tricky as any group of words among the parts of speech. But my pamphlet contains a simple non-grammatical key that will enable anyone to use the pronouns correctly. For a free copy, send a stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper. Ask for PERSONAL PRONOUNS pamphlet.

"Have Yuh Gotta Rug I Can Chew, Too, Adolf?"

Good Morning! INTO THE PAST

By The Bugler

CAN'T REMEMBER—Talking with Dr. Franz Polgar, "the mental wizard" before his Town Hall appearance in Escanaba the other day, he asked the approximate latitude and longitude of Escanaba's location on the globe. The Bugler, inherently vague about such things, didn't know the answer.

So, as a mental exercise Dr. Polgar began figuring our approximate longitude according to the distance from the Greenwich meridian.

The Bugler gave up long before the mental arithmetic in an effort to answer his own question. Finally he came up with two questions which, even to the child of grade school age, would have been simple but stumped the expert.

"Humm," he mused, tapping his forehead, "what is the circumference of the earth?"

The Bugler suggested the figure 25,000 miles as his answer.

Again Polgar tapped his forehead. "Now let's see—do the latitudinal lines run north or south? Or is that longitude?"

BRIGHTER CHRISTMAS—Your contributions to the War Fund will help make a brighter Christmas for American prisoners of war, says Merton Jensen, Escanaba chairman of the War Fund campaign.

Nearly 500 sets of Christmas decorations, lights, favors and other things of a Christmas party have been sent to American prisoners of war in Germany by John W. Davis. At midnight, with the returns still coming slowly and whole blocks of states with the deciding electoral votes yet to be heard from, the results of the presidential contest, either by apparent trend or concessions stood: Coolidge 211 electoral votes, for Davis 114 and LaFollette, 13.

25 Years Ago—1919 The appeal of City Health Officer Dr. W. A. Cotton to have nurses register for duty in cases of an emergency has not met with much response. Mrs. M. B. Turner, in charge of the Red Cross headquarters announced yesterday that but five nurses had registered so far in this community and all were practical nurses.

for the mother, and daughter answers, mother will sometimes say, "Oh, tell her I have a headache and can't come to the phone." And there is the mother who, knowing that a woman she does not like is to call on her, upbraids her unmercifully in front of the children. But when the caller comes the children are amazed to hear their mother say, "Darling! I'm so glad you could come — it was so sweet of you!"

PILOT'S PSALM—P.O. 2-c Florence Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Johnson of 314 North 16th street, is a member of the WAVES and is taking pilot's training at Pensacola, Florida, naval air station.

Recently in a letter to the Rev. Karl Hammar, pastor of the Central Methodist church in Escanaba, Miss Johnson enclosed the following:

PILOT'S PSALM The Lord is my Pilot; I shall not crash. He maketh me to fly in clear skies; He leadeth me down to smooth landings; He keepeth my chart. He guideth me through the pathless ways of the skies for His name's sake . . . Yea, though I fly through the storms and tempests of life, I shall dread no danger; for Thou art near me: Thy love and Thy care, they protect me . . . Thou preparest an airport for me in the homeland of eternity. Surely, sunlight and starlight shall favor me on the flight I take, and I will abide in the presence of the Lord forever.

The Lyons Den

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK—Ludwig Bemelmans, the author and artist, in his home life follows the strange pattern of the Bemelmans book characters. It wasn't so long ago that, each morning, he'd have to wake up in time to take both his wife and daughter to school. His daughter Barbara, attends a progressive school, and his wife, Mimi, was taking a postgraduate degree at Barnard . . . The award of a degree to Mrs. Bemelmans didn't terminate Barbara's sharing of experiences with a parent. She and her father both will go to Polytechnic Hospital for tonsillectomies on Thanksgiving. "We picked Thanksgiving," Bemelmans explained in the Stork Club last night, "to escape those turkey dinners."

THERE WILL BE further revelations shortly about the Truman Committee's investigation of Waxey Gordon's dealings in surplus war goods. The Committee has discovered that some of Waxey's associates have criminal records and their government deals have been shady . . . Simon & Schuster, Willkie's publishers, will publish a collected edition of his essays. His biography will be written as soon as Mrs. Willkie is ready to release his files . . . The first American play to be produced in France will be "Arsenic and Old Lace." Paul Ganne, head of Chappell & Co. in France, will sponsor the production in Paris.

ELLA LOGAN, the singer, still is overseas entertaining, after many months of work in England, France and Italy. This is Miss Logan's second trip abroad. Although she became ill in England, Miss Logan refused to return home, and went on instead to join the 5th Army . . . In the meantime, her husband, movie producer Fred F. Finklehoffe, is waiting for her in Hollywood. She was asked: "What's Ella doing over there for such a long time?" He replied: "Ella and Eisenhower both have exactly the same idea. They want to win the war as quickly as possible—only Ella doesn't want anybody to help her."

AT LEAST THREE of John Foster Dulles' law partners are supporters of Roosevelt . . . "Choo Choo" Johnson, the much-publicized model and showgirl, who received feature billing in two Broadway musicals last season, will start in a new job on Thursday. She'll be the manager of the Copacabana bar. It's a 12-hour job, from 4 p. m. to 4 a. m. . . Harry Conn, the radio writer, walked THREE miles yesterday for a Camel, and couldn't buy one. Because he can't get his favorite brand, Conn has given up smoking for the duration. And because he can't buy Scotch, he's also given up drinking. "But I'll be damned," he vows, "if I'll give up swearing."

BEFORE FRANK SINATRA was invited to the White House, he had written to the President stating that he was planning to buy coast-to-coast radio time to make a campaign speech. The Democratic National Committee's Chairman, Bob Hannegan, learned of Sinatra's devotion, and arranged for the White House visit. But Sinatra made no contribution to the Dem. Natl. Comm. For at a Citizens PAC luncheon attended by Mrs. Roosevelt, Sinatra responded to the call for contributions and gave $5,000, the maximum contribution permissible. He thought that all contributions to campaign committees go into one pot. That's why Sinatra's name was listed last week as a PAC contributor instead of to the committee headed by his friend Hannegan.

The use of veneers dates back to the earliest days of civilization. About 23,000 American Indians are in the U. S. armed forces.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON (Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—My dear sister: I have been out on the farm, where you can think about a lot of things more important than politics, and where we have finally finished bringing in the Lespedeza. You know, Lespedeza is one of the good things the Japs brought to this country—an excellent type of hay. I'll bet this was the latest hay crop ever harvested in this part of Maryland, and it was all Mr. Roosevelt's fault.

We got delayed first of all by the new silo. The only place I could get a silo was in Kalamazoo, Mich. They promised to send it in a hurry, but it didn't come, and didn't come. Meanwhile, the corn was getting ripe, and I was cussing out the railroads and the way Mr. Roosevelt was handling things.

Finally, the silo tiles arrived, but not the silo hoops. Somehow or other, the bureaucrats held the hoops out on me for three more weeks, so we didn't get the silo built until late August, by which time the corn was almost bone dry. Despite that, we started cutting it. That is, we tried to start. But by that time, the labor which had promised to help had gone off to other jobs.

I then arranged to get some German prisoners from Camp Meade, but every time they were due to come, it would rain. It hadn't rained much all summer, but just when we were ready to bring in the corn, it rained and rained. I guess that was about the only thing I can't blame on President Roosevelt. However, we finally got the German prisoners. The first bunch was pretty good, but the second already had become indoctrinated with Roosevelt ideas. They wouldn't work.

So I brought part of the office force out and put them to work in the cornfield. Mrs. P. drove a truck. Hal Horan of Time Magazine, who thought he had come down for a vacation, found himself working two inches off his waistline. Even his wife cut two acres of corn.

Well, we finally got the corn in the silo, by which time it was already late for the hay. Then it rained some more—and kept on raining. Every time we'd get some hay cut and all raked, it would rain again. At long last, however, the hay is in the barn, but now Henry is going to quit and I have to find a new dairyman.

—CRITICISM OF ADMINISTRATION—

Looking back over the years, I can remember a whole of criticism I have leveled at the Roosevelt Administration—day-in-and-day-out exposes, beginning with Jimmy Roosevelt's insurance deals even before the 1933 inauguration and the kit bag deal just after the inauguration, exposes which sent some leading Louisiana Democrats to jail until the White House stopped the prosecution; also how Mr. Hull was letting airplanes be shipped to Germany in violation of a treaty even in 1938; and the tragic fumbling of the Spanish Civil War; the shilly-shallying on scrap iron; Roosevelt's long-time refusal to recognize de Gaulle, and his knuckling under to Churchill on India.

Three years before Mr. Dewey talked about it, I pointed and kept on pointing to the Cabinet's quarrelsome old men; also exposed the danger of a rubber and tire shortage early enough to have prevented it; raised Cain over Secretary of War Woodring's delay in ordering airplanes; and criticized a whole host of other things, including the firing of Sumner Welles and the bungling of Russian relations, which criticism the White House certainly resented—vigorously, publicly, in blunt words hurled straight in my direction.

However, it seems to me that one of the very important things in this election is studying all the qualifications of all the candidates. We have now had Roosevelt under the most searching microscope in the world, the American press, for twelve long years. But when newspapermen try to hold the microscope up to Dewey, it isn't so easy. Take, for instance, two illustrations.

When you ask Dewey's draft board in New York for the facts regarding his reported agricultural deferment during the period after he was District Attorney and before he became Governor, you run up against a blank wall of silence. They may have been good reasons for his deferment, but the draft board says it's confidential, and Dewey hasn't seen fit to overrule the board. It seems to me, however, that the public is entitled to know all such things about any candidate as important as one for President of the United States.

Likewise, when you inquire as to how Governor Bricker came out of an athletic career in Ohio State University in 1917 to be suddenly ordained a minister and an Army chaplain by a little church at Mt. Sterling, Ohio, without one single day of theological training, again you run up against a blank wall of silence. Governor Bricker lists himself in Who's Who as a "first lieutenant, U. S. Army, World War." Maybe there was a good reason for all this, but you can't get any explanation as to why Bricker suddenly deserted law for the ministry, when unmarried, just at the beginning of the last war.

Well, these are just some of the things that the people who are fighting this war probably would like to know—certainly have a right to know—about the men they are going to vote on for the highest office in the land.

I started this letter by telling about the trials and tribulations of farming. But I still say that farming is easier than columnning—especially during elections, when both editors and readers bite off your head practically every day.

Your brother, Drew.

The word DIGEST is both noun and verb.

CAPT. FLORIANO WAR CASUALTY

Hero Of Ranazzo Fight
Seriously Wounded
In Germany

Hermansville—Capt. Leroy Floriano of Hermansville, who led the first American Infantry company into Ranazzo, Sicily, was seriously wounded in Germany on October 12, according to a telegram received from the War Department Monday by his wife, the former Genevieve Sutherland, who with their son, Robert Lee, lives in Hermansville.

Captain Floriano is the son of the late Leo Floriano, who was killed in France in World War I, and for whom the Legion Post at Hermansville is named, and his mother, Mrs. Emil Dusterhoff, now lives in Milwaukee.

Captain Floriano was awarded the Silver Star for meritorious duty during the Sicilian Campaign of which the citation reads: "For gallantry in action in the vicinity of Troina, Italy, August 1, 1943. During an attack upon the enemy, Captain Floriano maneuvered his company so skillfully as to completely surprise and inflict heavy casualties upon the enemy. When the enemy violently counter-attacked, Captain Floriano, despite heavy machine gun, mortar, and artillery fire, repeatedly exposed himself to the enemy to better direct his company's defense. When his position had been over-run, he remained behind and covered the withdrawal and, upon withdrawing himself, led four painfully wounded men to safety."

Captain Floriano again was recently decorated with the Silver Star by Major General Manson S. Eddy, commanding General of the Ninth Infantry Division, for gallantry in action in Normandy. Capt. Floriano is a veteran of the Tunisian and Sicilian campaigns and let the First American Infantry division into Randazzo, Sicily. He also participated in the Ninth Division's spectacular dash across the Cherbourg Peninsula. In addition to the Silver Star, Capt. Floriano wears the Combat Infantryman's badge, the American defense medal and the European-African-Mediterranean campaign ribbon with two battle stars.

Captain Floriano graduated from Hermansville high school. He was one of the school star basketball players and was a good scholar as well. He participated in various school activities, and was president of his senior class 1937.

He enrolled at St. Norbert's college at West DePere, Wis., that same year and later proved to be one of the most outstanding athletes ever turned out at that school. He played three years of college football at left halfback, and three years of basketball as a guard. He was captain of the basketball team in his senior year and was voted the most valuable athlete at college at that time.

He was graduated from St. Norbert with a B. S. degree in June, 1941, and entered the Army that same month. He was a member of the St. Norbert R. O. T. C. unit and also a member of various military social organizations on the campus. He was commissioned a second Lieutenant upon graduation and sent to Fort Benning, Ga. From Fort Benning he was transferred to Fort Macon, Ga., in September, 1941. In June 1942 he was promoted to First Lieutenant and the following December he was made a Captain.

Before his departure for overseas duty, he was home last on a furlough on February 17, 1943. He sailed from New York on February 27, 1943 for overseas duty.

Capt. Floriano is now convalescing in an United States Army hospital inside Germany.

Sgt. L. S. Masta Wounded In Action

Sgt. Laurance S. Masta, whose family resides at 1401 First avenue north, was wounded October 11 in Germany, according to a telegram received by his wife from the War Department.

Called into the army in January 1944, Sgt. Masta received 17 weeks training at Camp Wolters, Texas, before being sent overseas.

Sgt. Masta is the father of five children, the youngest of whom, a daughter Kieneth, he has never seen.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Masta, live at Sault Ste. Marie.

Unused Transport Rations Accepted By OPA In Future

Since October 16, the responsibility for the acceptance of unused transport rations, both coupon and bulk, has been transferred from the ODT to the OPA. Al G. Wepler, district manager at Escanaba, announced. It appears inadvisable, however, Wepler said, that the procedure be changed so completely that ODT field personnel will refuse to handle excess rations under any circumstances.

If a commercial motor vehicle operator calls at an ODT district or field office for the purpose of surrendering excess or expired rations, Wepler said, the rations are to be accepted and the operator will be given the original copy of a duplicate receipt for the rations he surrenders. The operator will be advised, however, that in the future he should return such rations to his OPA local board.

The rations surrendered are to be cancelled in the presence of the operator by drawing sufficient lines through them in ink to make them obviously void for further use, entered upon the ledger record, and immediately thereafter turned over to the ODT custodian along with the carbon copy of the receipt. Upon the carbon copy of the receipt should be noted the number and address of the local board from which the rations were obtained so that they may be returned to the same board, Wepler declared.

STONES FROM THE SKY

Scientists were among the last to admit the possibility of stones falling from the sky, as in the case of meteorites, and not until the early part of the 19th century was it conceded generally.

Naval Recruiter Coming Here Today

A recruiting officer of the United States Navy will be in Escanaba Saturday to receive applications for enlistment from young men 17 years of age.

Men who have any thought of volunteering for Naval service, the officer stated Friday, are requested to come in and make application sometime before their 18th birthday.

"A great many who have waited until the last moment have had to be turned down, as they could not be examined and sworn in before they became 18."

Making out the application form is not binding, the officer pointed out, but may protect the applicant in the last minute rush. In the event the applicant changes his mind, the application will be destroyed when he becomes of age.

IT HAS BEEN WISELY SAID THAT "BUT A SINGLE HEARTBEAT SEPARATES THE VICE-PRESIDENT FROM THE PRESIDENCY OF THIS COUNTRY"...

declared California's Governor Earl Warren in his speech at Columbus, Ohio, October 4, 1944

WHO IS THIS MAN

"Boss" Ed Kelly of Chicago, raising the hand of "Boss" Pendergast's choice for the U. S. Senator in 1934 and the "Clear Everything with Sidney" choice for the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee in 1944—Harry S. Truman.

WHO MAY BE PRESIDENT?

How important is the VICE PRESIDENT of the United States? He is the SECOND most important man in the United States because he is the man that may become President at any SECOND.

Yes, only a single heartbeat stands between the VICE PRESIDENT and the highest office on earth—THE PRESIDENCY OF THE UNITED STATES.

Under Roosevelt, we have HARRY TRUMAN! Who is Harry Truman? Why, he's the man who was "made" a Senator by Boss Pendergast, the Kansas City (Missouri) convicted political boss who was recently released from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

Truman was the choice of the bosses at the "CLEAR EVERYTHING WITH SIDNEY" Democratic Convention in Chicago—he was the choice of Hannegan, Hague, Hillman—and Browder, the Communist.

Contrast Roosevelt and Truman with the strong, vigorous, successful administrators chosen by the Republican Convention—GOVERNOR THOMAS E. DEWEY and GOVERNOR JOHN W. BRICKER.

Corrupt "Boss" Tom Pendergast of Kansas City, Mo., told a newspaperman "that he could name his 'office boy' to the U. S. Senate." Harry S. Truman (above), whose political career started under the Pendergast reign, today is a member of the U. S. Senate and the New Deal candidate for the vice-presidency. Pendergast's portrait hangs on the wall.

5 SUSPENDED IN OPA VIOLATIONS

Gasoline Stations Are Rapped; One Grocer Also Cited

Five violators of OPA rationing regulations were given suspensions for varying periods following hearings conducted before Francis V. Robinson, OPA hearing commissioner, at the city hall in Escanaba Thursday. Four of the defendants are operators of gasoline filling stations in the upper peninsula and a fifth is operator of a grocery and meat market.

The cases and dispositions follow: Pasco Barsanti and Chris Trevarrow, of Laurium, charged with six violations of gasoline regulations, was suspended from the gasoline business for 30 days, 15 of which will be active and 15 on probation. Lando Fehrenback, Menominee, charged with three violations of gasoline rationing regulations, was suspended for 60 days, 20 of which will be active and 40 days of probation. The station had previously received a warning of gasoline rationing violations.

A. R. Gustafson, grocer, of Ishpeming, charged with an overdraft of 31,696 points on meats and fats ration bank account, was suspended for 30 days in the trade of rationed commodities purchasable on red points. Five days of the suspension will be active and 25 days probationary. The dealer, however, will be required to pay back the entire overdraft before he can resume sales of meats and fats.

Brainard Burbank, of Hubbell, charged with shortage of 1122 gallons of gasoline, was given a 10 day suspension, all of which will be probationary.

John James, of Iron Mountain, charged with a shortage of 962 gallons of gasoline, was given a 90 days suspension, 30 days of which will be active and 60 days on probation.

In every case the suspensions cover only those items under OPA regulations and does not cover unrationed items. Services may continue to be maintained by the various proprietors.

In addition to these cases, the Keweenaw county price panel of the OPA, recently held a hearing in the case of Serene D. Wescoat, proprietor of the New Pontiac Resort at Copper Harbor. Mrs. Wescoat was charged with violating restaurant maximum price regulations. In settlement of the OPA claim for treble damages, the price panel agreed to accept the sum of $35, payment of which has already been made.

ACCIDENTS DECREASE
Construction jobs during the war period have taken a lower accident toll than ever before, despite rapid labor turnover and many "rush" projects. Main reasons are: establishment of accident prevention as a contractual obligation; enforcement of safety requirements; mobile first aid stations, infirmaries and hospitals; and supervision by government safety engineers.

Welcome him when he knocks at your door

THE 6TH WAR LOAN STARTS NEXT WEEK!

WITHIN the next few weeks in every city, town and hamlet, men and women will be knocking on the doors of American homes. They come in the name of your fighting men, giving their time to take your subscriptions for extra War Bonds.

Welcome them as though they were actual soldiers from the foxholes of the Pacific. Your boys know what cooperation means during a battle—with them, it's a matter of life or death, victory or defeat. Think of this when a volunteer worker knocks on your door. Double your Bond buying during this drive. Buy at least one extra $100 Bond. Then buy another and another. It's going to take a lot of Bonds to meet the goal of $14,000,000,000.

Remember that the Japs are firmly united against us. They have 73 million people at home plus many of the 400 million enslaved people in conquered territories working to prolong this war. Japanese industry is strong and modern and they have the supplies to prolong the war unless we stop them.

And remember, when you buy a Bond during this drive, you're backing the boys fighting into the heart of the Nipponese strongholds. Buy Bonds with a grateful heart out of an open pocketbook.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE!

The "basket" of securities to be sold under the direction of the State War Finance Committee is especially designed to fit individual investment needs. It consists of eight issues:

- Series E, F and G Savings Bonds.
- Series C Savings Notes.
- 2½% Bonds of 1966-71.
- 2% Bonds of 1952-54.
- 1½% Notes of 1947.
- ½% Certificates of Indebtedness.

Votes Of Soldiers May Decide In Pennsylvania

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Philadelphia—The battle for Pennsylvania's 35 electoral votes will go on to the very end, and that means until the last possible voter is shepherded to the polls on election day.

It's going to be close. That's the one thing both sides agree on. In fact, it may be so close that the final decision will turn on the 200,000 soldier ballots expected to come in from Pennsylvania service men and women.

What is more, if the election should turn on the Keystone state then we might not know for at least two weeks who our next president is to be. The reason lies in Pennsylvania's soldier vote law, which authorizes voting officials to receive soldier ballots for two weeks after the polls close on November 7. The liberal soldier vote statute was intended by Governor Martin, who sponsored it, to permit GI Joe's in remote corners of the world to be counted even though they should actually vote as late as November 6 or 7.

But it could also have the effect, if this is really to be as close a race as some people seem to think, of giving us a case of the national jitters while we waited to find out who is to be No. 1 beginning next January. The chances of that happening are, of course, remote.

Both Campaign Hard

In the home state, both Republicans and Democrats are working like beavers. The Republicans have a most effective machine in Philadelphia, stoked by some 20,000 city hall jobs. Word has gone down the line to ward committeemen that they had better exceed the Republican vote of 1940 in their respective wards or else. Results are to be closely analyzed in each precinct, and rewards will be passed out accordingly.

The hope is to scale down President Roosevelt's Philadelphia majority to such a narrow margin that it will be easily swamped by the outside tide for Governor Dewey. FDR's majority in the city last time was 178,000 and the GOP means to slash this to under 100,000.

In a last-minute sortie, Dewey is appealing for the coal miners' vote around Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. It didn't work four years ago. John L. Lewis failed to swing the rank and file of his United Mine Workers' Union against Roosevelt.

In the closing week of the '40 campaign, Lewis came out with a stentorian blast against his one-time friend, Roosevelt. That cost $55,000 for radio time, and Wendell Willkie said later that it probably did him more harm than good.

Pvt. Roger Hazen of Camp Butner, N. C. came Saturday night to visit his father, Vernon Hazen. He had spent a few days in Lansing with his sister Dorothy.

Oliver Swanson of Fayette and Myron Farley passed examination at Milwaukee Saturday to join the U. S. Navy. They have returned here and are awaiting call to training.

Charles Robert Gould of Kate's Bay took examination Saturday at Milwaukee for induction in the Army.

Mrs. Mary Prizner has received word from her son, Edward, who was slightly wounded in France, that he is back in action. Mrs. Vance Tatrow has received V-mail from her husband dated after the day on which he was wounded in France.

Parties

A successful party was held at the St. John hall Sunday night arranged by the following committee: Mrs. Edward Joque, Mrs. E. J. Purtil, Mrs. Charles Winter, Mrs. Bud Winter, Mrs. George Farley, Mrs. Joe Farley, Mrs. Elmer Bonifas and Mrs. Denter. In cards Mrs. Gerald Larion of Manistique won the ladies first prize and also received the guest award. Mrs. Charles Tatrow was in second place. Charles Winter and Fr. McKevitt received the men's prizes for first and second places. After play a light lunch was served. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Theo Cousineau and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Larion of Manistique.

Mrs. Joseph Farley entertained the members of the bridge club at her home Monday evening. Mrs. Herbert Foote made high score, Mrs. George Farley, low and Mrs. William Swaer 80 honors. The prize for deuce went to Mrs. Charles Gauthier. Light refreshments were served after play.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lamkey and Otto Stielow returned to Milwaukee Monday after spending two weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Swaer and family of Oconto spent the week end at the William Swaer home in Van's Harbor.

Childs

While John L. may not be able to resist trumpeting his hatred of "that man" before it's all over, he's gone about it differently this time. He has told paid officials of the UMW that they must deliver for Dewey.

The long distance alliance between Dewey and Lewis has been one of the amusing sidelights in an otherwise grim campaign. Frequently at Press conferences around the country, the Republican candidate has been asked about Lewis' support. He has avoided a direct answer by saying he didn't know he had his support. The candidate has radiated all the joy of a man receiving a bouquet of thistles when reporters have needed him on the subject of Lewis and Co.

In the background, of course, is Dewey's 1942 speech made at the time Lewis was threatening to move in and organize New York's Dairy farmers. Dewey called the Mine Workers' chief more harsh names than any of the other competing Lewis name-callers.

Even Money Bet

The best evidence is that there has been relatively little defection in the coal mining areas. The Roosevelt majority is not likely to be cut substantially in the anthracite regions.

In both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the political action committee seems to have done a thorough job of registration. The intense, hard-working men and women who have put PAC over believe that, even allowing for the fact that some names will be stricken from the books, final registration here will exceed 1940.

They put the Roosevelt majority at a minimum of 135,000 for the city. If the results of a poll taken by the Philadelphia Bulletin are borne out, it will be considerably larger than that. Industrial Pittsburgh is also expected to come through with a substantial Democratic majority.

You pay your money and you take your choice. Knowing bettors think this pivotal state is an even money bet.

GUEST SPEAKER — Rev. P.

Konsterlie, who served as a missionary in China for twenty-five years, will be guest speaker at Immanuel Lutheran church of this city and Trinity Lutheran church in Stonington on Sunday, November 5.

METAL SALVAGE

Our "tin" cans are not more than 1½ tin and at least 98% steel. Steel provides the durability, tin the weather-stripping and insulation that gives extra protection. When you salvage tin cans you salvage two of the most precious metals needed to win the war.

The Canadian women's army corps was established in 1941.

HOW TO SPLIT YOUR TICKET

Without suggesting how anyone should vote, it is surprising to know how many people there are who do not know how to split their tickets, and many are afraid to do so, fearing they might spoil their ballots. The organizations of both political parties are advocating "Vote a straight ticket," and at the same time, every candidate on every ticket is advocating to vote a split ballot as far as he is concerned. This seems inconsistent. By party organizations admonishing their followers to vote a straight ticket is too narrow and partisan. If a voter wishes to vote for some candidate not on his ticket, he should not hesitate to do so. Every voter should know how to vote for a candidate not on his ticket. It is very simple. You first place a cross at the top or head of your party ticket. If nothing further is done, that is voting a straight party ticket. If you desire to vote for some candidate on the other ticket, you simply go down the ballot until you find his name and place a cross before his name, without erasing anything. In this way, you will vote a straight party ticket, except the name or names before which you have placed a cross.

WHEN YOUR BOY COMES HOME LOOKING FOR A JOB

Are you going to tell him you voted for a man whose record proves he couldn't provide a job before, and whose promises mean nothing?

Remember this when you vote Tuesday. A Republican administration will bring back good jobs and good pay. That's what your boy wants, and deserves.

Elect the Man Who Can and Will Devote His Full Time to the Job!

Everett B. Wells is seeking the office of County Treasurer of Delta County on the Republican ticket. This is his first appearance in the field of politics. He is a veteran of World War I. For years he was in charge of the flooring plant of the I. Stephenson Co., at Wells, but serious illness forced his retirement and for several years he has been unable to work. Now he is sufficiently recovered and able to work at a job that does not require physical strain. He can and will devote his full time to this important county office and he has the qualifications and experience needed to most ably execute its duties.

More Than 60% of the Votes Cast in This Election Will Be Cast By Women!

MOST WOMEN FAVOR DEWEY . . . HERE'S WHY—

The majority of women favor Dewey because they believe in him, are impressed by his sincerity, by his belief and faith in the American people. They are opposed to President Roosevelt largely because he failed to keep his 1940 "again and again" promise that "your boys are not going to be sent into foreign wars"—Women firmly believe that the President should never have made a promise he knew he could not keep. Women who have sons, husbands, brothers and sweethearts in this war resent the part foreign and domestic politics are playing in the prosecution of the war effort. In Dewey, women see the fundamental principles of honesty and good faith. In him they see the hope of freedom, justice, Peace and Opportunity for all. Women fear the brand of politics that tolerates and openly acknowledges the efforts of such men as Sidney Hillman and Earl Browder. Women have last faith in the New Deal and all it stands for . . . The women of America know "It's Time For a Change".

"For the First Time In History Women Will Elect the President of the United States!"

There are over 600,000 more women registered to vote than men. This majority may well mean that the deciding votes in this election will be cast by women. Knowing this, the women of America cannot and will not fail to cast their votes.

It's Time For A Change! Vote Straight Republican!

PUT YOUR X IN THE O UNDER THE PICTURE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN . . . THAT'S ALL YOU HAVE TO DO! YOUR VOTE WILL COUNT . . . YOU WILL HAVE VOTED CORRECTLY!

FARRELL TELLS LIONS OF OPA

Escanaba Club Claims Fellowship Plaque Thursday

How the Office of Price Administration functions and the manner in which it has prevented disastrous uncontrolled price inflation was interestingly described by Larry Farrell, Escanaba, head of OPA in the Upper Peninsula, before the Gladstone Lions club on Thursday evening.

A delegation of 13 Lions from the Escanaba club attended the gathering and took home with them the Good Fellowship Plaque. Presentation was made by Vincent Paul Johnson, donor of the plaque. In the group of Escanaba Lions were George Williams, William King, Merrill Larson, Al Dugener, Roy Nerbonne, Gust Asp, William Miron, Harry Ehnerd, Melvin Oslund, Dewey Meunier, Norman Hanson, Ross Gamble and Henry Bonno.

An invitation to attend a Ladies' Night being put on by the North Menominee club at Powers next Monday was received and read to the club membership.

POLIO CHAPTER RE-ORGANIZED

Frank M. Gierke, Sr., Is President Of New Setup

Re-organization in Manistique of a Schoolcraft county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was made at a meeting held in the court house Thursday evening. Frank M. Gierke was named president of the organization, Charles D. Manson, vice president; E. J. LaFave, secretary; Fred H. Hahne, treasurer; Directors: Mrs. Charlotte Carr, Manistique; Mrs. Pearl S. Olson, Thompson; Mrs. Hugh Shay, Gernfask; Russell Watson and Dr. C. E. Lockwood, both of Manistique.

Re-organization was made at the suggestion of Don Thurber, of Lansing, representative of the national foundation who, in a talk delivered at the meeting urged that something be done to revitalize the local organization which has been dormant the past couple of years.

With an organization functioning in the county, he said, certain funds now held in trust by the national foundation would be returned to the local chapter. These, he explained, were collections from the march of dimes and other donations made in the county. This fund would amount to $24 which would make the local fund about double.

Mr. Thurber assured the organization that while the local funds on hand would be far from adequate to take care of emergencies should an epidemic arise, the national foundation would stand by to render ever assistance.

The fight against infantile paralysis, he said, is still one of "treatment after the disease has struck." Unlike tuberculosis, malaria, or the commonly known contagious diseases, means of prevention of infantile paralysis are still unknown. The disease germ has not been isolated. There are 52 research centers in the country devoting their entire resources to a study of the disease, but it still has them baffled.

Passed at the meeting was a resolution authorizing the payment of $5 per month toward the salary of Miss Alice Snyder, superintendent of St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette and another motion to send some nurse from Schoolcraft county to the D. T. Watson School of Physiotherapy to take a course in how to apply hot packs to patients in the early stages of the disease. The course will cost about $100.

PTA Sponsored Open House Is Well Attended

The unfavorable weather of Thursday evening did not deter attendance nor dampen the enjoyment at the open house meeting at Lincoln school sponsored by the Lincoln-Riverside PTA.

More than ninety people were present at the event where the early part of the evening was devoted to visiting the different rooms in the school where the pupils had set out samples of their work on their desks and the teachers had posted outstanding examples of drawing and busy work on the walls. The parents, in turn, wrote their names on the blackboards.

A source of much satisfaction to the sponsors of the affair, was the fact that this tour of inspection was not confined to parents of pupils, but to patrons of the school district interested in its progress in general.

Following the inspection, there was a short program consisting of a trombone solo by Raymond Norberg and a vocal solo by Orvis Holmes, Miss Margaret Johnson accompanied them at the piano.

The kindergarten room won a competition among the rooms for having the largest number of parents represented at the meeting.

Announced at the meeting was the coming waste fat drive sponsored by the Lincoln-Riverside PTA. The drive, which will be conducted under the joint direction of Mrs. Vert Guidebeck and Mrs. Theodore Richards, will start the first of the week.

Also announced was a series of parties to be held at the Lincoln school in the course of the next few months. The first of these will be held on Friday, November 10. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Raymond Bunker, chairman; Mrs. William Berger, Mrs. Len Stoor, Mrs. Richard Abrahamson, Mrs. Alf Hutchinson, and Mrs. Fred Christenson.

Gladstone Seeks U. P. Grid Title In Battle With Eskymos Today

TEAMS READY FOR BIG GAME

Braves Unbeaten in Six Games Face Formidable Challenge

The unbeaten, untied Gladstone Braves with a piece of the upper peninsula football championship, perhaps even undisputed possession, within their grasp will clash with the upsurging Eskymos of Escanaba in the annual inter-city football battle this afternoon at two o'clock at the Marble athletic field in Gladstone. The game probably will draw the largest football crowd of the season.

Having brushed off Munising, Manistique, Marquette, Newberry, Ishpeming and Stephenson on successive week-ends, the Braves stand today on the threshold of their first peninsula grid championship in years. The Eskymos, five-times beaten this season, represent the only barrier to the Braves' pennant contention but even Coach Keil and the Gladstone team concede the barrier is a formidable one.

The Eskymos have shown a tremendous upsurge since mid-season and in their last two starts they held the unbeaten Mountaineers of Iron Mountain to a scoreless tie and lost to the strong Marinette team only in the final seconds of the game.

Both Coach Eldon Keil of Gladstone and George Ruwitch of Escanaba announced yesterday that their teams are in readiness for the traditional scrap.

Gladstone will start Kinziger and Young, ends; Gillis and Timmer, tackles; Bergeon and Johnson, guards; Jugo, center; Capt. Sigau, quarterback; Lundmark and Haglund, halfbacks; and Kallman, fullback.

Both teams went through a light drill yesterday, perfecting last minute details for their plan of action today.

Reserved seats for the game have been selling like hot dogs at a carnival and the largest crowd of the season will be on hand for the game. Cars will be permitted to park on the east side of the field but occupants of the cars will be required to remain in their vehicles and will be prohibited from marching up and down the sidelines.

The officials for the game will be Chambers, Rich and Barry.

BIRD SANCTUARY ORIGINATOR DIES

Famed Wildfowl Expert Stricken At His Home In Kingsville, Ont.

Kingsville, Ont., Nov. 3 (AP)—Jack Miner, who in 1904 started his now world-famous bird sanctuary with seven wild geese in a pond on his farm near Lake Erie, died today at the age of 79 in his home at Kingsville.

Bird lovers from all parts of the world have visited the sanctuary. Miner was born at Dover Centre, Ont., and moved with his parents and nine brothers and sisters to the farm near here when he was 13.

Four years after the first seven geese were attracted to the pond, 11 more visited the spot and in recent years the annual number of wild ducks and geese has been estimated at 30,000. Miner began banding the birds in 1909 and thus added much to the knowledge of migration routes across the continent.

Prior to his seventieth birthday, Mr. Miner lectured on birds throughout the United States and Canada. In 1929 the Canadian government came to his aid with a

PITCHER TELLS OF BRIBE CALL

Leonard Of Senators Offered $3,000 To Throw Game

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 3 (AP)—Emil (Dutch) Leonard, Washington Senators pitcher, said today he was offered a bribe by an unknown telephone caller early in the morning of Oct. 1, the day the hurler knocked Detroit out of the American League pennant race with his final game triumph.

Leonard said, "I just hung up. I thought it was a joke." Later he related the incident to Coach Clyde Milan of the Senators, because "after thinking it over, I got to feeling kind of funny about it."

The knuckle-baller, arriving here en route from New York to his home in Auburn, Ill., told a reporter: "I got the telephone call in my hotel room. This fellow said, 'Hello, Leonard? You pitching today?'"

"Then he said, 'it can get you twenty-five hundred or three thousand.'"

"I thought it was some sort of prank, but I decided I'd better tell somebody about it. So I told Milan."

While in New York Leonard made arrangements to go overseas with a group of major league baseball stars, he said.

Rickey Buys Into Dodgers to Prove Faith In "Bums"

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Well, we always had the idea that one way to keep from losing your job is to own the business, and Branch Rickey seems to be headed in that direction, in his purchase of a sizable hunk of stock in the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Not that Mr. Rickey was in any particular danger of losing his job, as he's really a know-it-all when it comes to baseball, and the men who hired him know it, even if some of the Dodger fans think he ran a ball club into a shoe string this year.

The fans just can't get over the dismal season, and they put the finger on Mr. Rickey for his disposal of capable players and his failure to spend money lavishly for new talent of acceptable ability. They just can't reconcile themselves to the bunch of bobby-soxers, out there in Brooklyn uniforms toward the end of the season, with the accepted idea of the rowdy-dowdgers.

MacPhail Gave Results Personally, we have tremendous respect for Mr. Rickey's business ability when it comes to baseball and his far-sightedness. His record in St. Louis shows he's a man who builds on a solid foundation. It may take a little more time than it would take to set up a pre-fabricated affair, but in the long run you've got something.

Larry MacPhail, Mr. Rickey's predecessor, virtually bought a contending team and a pennant winner ready made, purchasing established players and throwing them into the race. It was effective, if expensive, and the result was all the fans cared about. They didn't want results 10 years hence. They wanted them right now, and MacPhail gave them what they wanted.

MacPhail's assembled machine was beginning to wear thin and come apart at the seams when Rickey took over and, the manpower situation being as it was, it wasn't so easy to get good players by waving a checkbook. Besides, that wasn't Rickey's way of doing business.

His system always has been to pick them out of the pastures himself, educate them in the classrooms of an intricate farm system, and graduate them into the big show when ready.

The soundness of this long-range program is demonstrated by the current St. Louis Cardinals. But, as mentioned before, the Dodger fans are an impatient lot, and although Rickey probably can see batting champions and leading pitchers a few years hence among the callow lads his scouts have been picking up here and there, the fans don't wear the same big shoes.

Anyway, the fans should take heart over the fact that Rickey has bought into the organization. A man with his own furniture in a house isn't going to set fire to the place, even if it is insured, unless he's slightly bumpy, and Rickey isn't going to buy into a club he is going to run into the ground.

He is showing implicit faith in his ability to build up the team to money-making stature, which means it will have to be a winner. That would seem to be proof enough that the Dodger fans are in for some good baseball if they'll bide their time.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

For many years it has been unnecessary to "build up" the annual Escanaba-Gladstone football game because fan interest in this series is so genuinely real. This year's battle of the Delta county teams is no exception. Every football fan in the county who can possibly do so will be on hand at the Marble athletic field this afternoon to see the scrap. It should be an unusually good one because the teams appear more evenly matched than they have been for a number of years.

Upon the basis of season's records, the Gladstone Braves would rate the favorites by a decided margin. Actually, however, the fine comeback made by the Eskymos, first against the still undefeated Iron Mountain team and then against the stellar Marines of Marinette last Saturday, put Coach Ruwitch's team on equal footing with the Braves. The fact that the Gladstone team is still undefeated and has a bigger stake in today's game than merely the satisfaction of trimming an old rival makes the game even more attractive to the fans.

Despite the absence of a real sting in their offensive punch, the Eskymos cannot be dismissed as impotent, particularly in this game where they probably will produce their best football performance of the season. Defensively, they have never looked bad in any game except the Menominee game in which the power of the Maroons that day was obviously too much for the inexperienced Eskymo squad to handle. The Braves, on the other hand, have been primarily an offensive team. The two teams have not played similar schedules, which makes the probable outcome of this battle even more difficult to analyze.

Anyone's guess on this game is as good as the next fellow's. There is really nothing definite upon which to base a reasonable appraisal, except sentiment. In other leading games scheduled today, Menominee is the choice over Ironwood, Iron Mountain over Kingsford and Hancock over Houghton. The games today will draw the curtain on upper peninsula football except for the Menominee-Marquette game on Saturday, Nov. 11. Next season Stephenson plans to play most if not all of its home games on week-days. Experiments this season indicated unusual success for the midweek games from a financial standpoint.

Dynamite Still In Joe Louis' Punch

Detroit, Nov. 3 (AP)—Sgt. Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion just returned from a tour of exhibitions for service men in England, North Africa and Italy, knocked out Johnny Denson of Indianapolis in 1:30 of the second exhibition here tonight.

Louis, weighing 212 pounds, only seven more than his best fighting weight, hardly got warmed up before his flurry of blows with the 14-ounce gloves dropped the 210-pound Denson to a sitting position which Denson held for the count.

It was Louis' first public bout with any one but a sparring partner since he knocked out Abe Simon in New York in March, 1942. The champion, after his appearance here, goes to Baltimore, New Haven, Hartford, Philadelphia, Washington, Buffalo, Elizabeth, N. J., and Boston before returning to the army Nov. 18.

Navy Over Irish, Says Grid Picker

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—This is the weekend that even the coaches, especially those at V-12 colleges, need a program to identify the players so how can a football forecaster by expected to register a perfect score? But here goes:

Navy over Notre Dame: It is a Notre Dame habit to defeat the two service schools year in and year out but the 1944 Navy squad can defeat any college club it wants to, primarily because of that tough line.

Georgia Tech over Duke: The Carolina Blue Devils probably are the best four-time losers in the country. By sundown Saturday they will be the best five-time losers. Both teams hit by naval transfers during the week.

Michigan over Pennsylvania: In the belief that the loss of Capt. Bob Wiese and Halfback Bob Nussbaumer wasn't a complete surprise to Coach Fritz Crisler of the Wolverines.

Army over Villanova: The Cadets return to their point-a-minute tactics.

Iowa Seahawks over Tulsa: Even if the collegians are on the rebound from their 46 to 40 setback of a week ago, Camp Wilson's injury will slow down Tulsa.

North Carolina Pre-Flight over Bainbridge Naval (Sunday): Bainbridge, hidden from the general public view despite 13 straight victories, picked the wrong Saturday for a chance in the spotlight with 15 players hurt.

Louisiana State over Tennessee: The breaks are about due to start running for the Bayou Bengals, who have won only one game this year.

Ohio State over Indiana: The Buckeyes get revenge for that 20 to 14 last-minute setback of a year ago. It probably will turn out to be a personal duel between Les Horvath and Hunchy Hoernschemeyer.

Alabama over Georgia: The Crimson Tide's passing attack to be the difference.

Purdue over Wisconsin: Both teams lost heavily during the week by naval transfers and injuries but the Boilermakers will get the needed lift from the homecoming throng.

Texas over Southern Methodist: The Longhorns did the better job against three teams common to both schedules.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners have won all their games but one from the Cyclones and the habit has grown strong with the years.

Yale over Dartmouth: The big Green team lost 16 V-12 squad members this week.

Southern California over San Diego Naval Training: The Trojans once more are the best in the west.

Norman Navy over Oklahoma A. & M.: The Aggies were pitched too high last week to come back with another upset.

North Carolina over South Carolina: What was it those governors said, anyway?

Finishing in a hurry: East-Columbia over Cornell, Syracuse over Penn State, Case over Rochester, West Virginia over Temple, Connecticut over CCNY.

Brown over Coast Guard, Buckle over NUY F. & M. over Swarthmore, Lafayette over Ursinus, Rutgers over Lehigh.

South — Auburn over Presbyterian, Mississippi State over Kentucky, Wake Forest over Clemson, Mississippi over Jackson Air Base, Virginia over Maryland, Third Air Force over Georgia (Sunday), North Carolina State over VMI, Texas Christian over Chatham Field.

Midwest—Iowa over Nebraska, Michigan State over Missouri, Minnesota over Northwestern, Kansas State over Wichita, Great Lakes over Marquette (Sunday).

South — Randolph Field over North Texas Aggies, Rice over Texas Tech, Texas A. & M. over Arkansas.

Far West—California over Alameda Coast Guards, Fourth Air Force over UCLA, Second Air Force over Amarillo Air Field (Sunday), Colorado over New Mexico, Fleet City over St. Mary's (Sunday).

The Palisades of the Hudson in New Jersey are an unbroken perpendicular cliff of colored basalt 300 to 500 feet above the river.

PROFIT CASHING CURBS LEADERS

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Stocks shuffled over an irregular course in today's market and, while scattered rail and industrial specialties exhibited strength, many leaders were depressed by profit cashing on the recent advance.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1.1 of a point at 55.2, first sight dip since Monday. Of a 855 issue appearing, 349 were down, 279 up and 227 unchanged. Transfers totalled 730,340 shares compared with 790,140 Thursday.

Among favorites, Hiram Walker ran up 3 1/2 points to a 1944 peak at 62 1/2 and Distillers Corp. tacked on 1 1/4 at 32 7/8. Mild improvement was retained by General Motors, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Johnsonville, General Electric, Kennecott and Great Northern.

TRADING EXPANDS

New York, Nov. 3 (AP)—Bond market activity today expanded to the best trading figures for a week more as a result of renewed interest in reorganization rail loans.

A number of transfers in this department advanced fractions to more than a point. The general corporate list was irregular.

Congressional with voting of initial dividends on the new common and preferred stocks of North Western, the 4 1/2 per cent bonds in the round pushed up about a point on heavy dealings.

Other rails closing higher included Chicago & Eastern Illinois, St. Paul Adjustment, International Great Northern Adjustment 6s and Seaboard Air Line 5s of '50. American Tobacco 3s and American & Foreign Power 5s were among other gainers.

Bonds down on the day included International Hydro Electric 5s, M-K-T 4 1/2s, Kansas City Southern 5s and International Telephone 5s.

Although irregular the foreign list advanced enough to lift the Associated Press foreign average 1.1 of a point. U. S. governments showed narrow changes.

Transactions totaled $2,203,000, face value, against $6,774,800 yesterday.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO BUTTER Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—(WFA)—The butter market was firm today and unchanged at OPA ceilings.

CHICAGO EGGS Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—(WFA)—Eggs were firm; prices unchanged.

CHICAGO POTATOES Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—(WFA)—Potatoes arrivals 57, on track 194, total U. S. shipments 1,000,000. Market steady; for best quality western stock, demand moderate, market firm; for common stock, demand moderate, market steady. Idaho russets, U. S. No. 1, 3.20 to 3.35; Burbanks, U. S. No. 1, 3.20 to 3.35; Michigan Sebago, U. S. No. 1, 2.50; Minnesota and North Dakota cobbles, fair quality, 1.95 to 2.10.

CHICAGO GRAIN Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—(WFA)—Firmness of corn was a price making factor in grain futures markets today and prices gained momentum. Dealers were extremely light, indicating traders' preference to stay close to shore until after Tuesday's election.

Scattered hedging caused ease in the corn market at the start. The trade in wheat was dull throughout the day. At the close wheat was unchanged to 3-8 higher than yesterday's finish. December $1.63 1/2. Corn was up 3-8 to 5-8, December $1.09 1/2. Oats were 1-8 higher to 3-8 lower, December 63 1/2 to 63 3-8. Rye was 1/4 higher, December $1.10 7-8 to $1.11. Barley was 1/4 to 3-8 higher, December $1.03.

The December was strongest of the rye contracts and at times was as much as a cent. Oats were unsettled, breaking in the early trade only to rally later with other grains.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK Chicago, Nov. 3 (AP)—(WFA)—Salable hog market opened steady, slow, closed moderately active, steady to mostly 10 cents lower with weights steady. 270 to 300 lbs. 12 1/2 to 13 1/2; good and choice 130 to 270 lbs. 14.00 to 14.15; top 14 1/2; few 280 to 300 lbs. 14.00; small numbers good and choice 13.50 to 14.00; 12 1/2 to 13 1/2; good and choice 13 1/2 to 13 3/4; good clearance; snippers took 12.50.

Salable cattle 2,000, total 3,000; salable calves 400, total 800; few loads choice steers and yearlings sold to eastern order buyers steady at 16 1/2 to 17 1/2, but no reliable offer for medium and good kinds, bulk being carried into next week, all other classes on peddling, steady to weak basis; receipts mostly cows, with cutters at 6.50 down and most common and medium beef cows at 7.50 to 10.50; stock cattle steady but slow following very active week with bulk at 11.00 to 12.50; vealers very scarce at 15.50 down.

TIME COUNTER

Army and Navy guns are firing more effectively as the result of tests made possible by a new electronic time-interval counter. The device, precise to 1/100,000 of a second, supplies instantaneously data upon which the performance of a given gun is established and the uniformity of its ammunition checked within a few seconds.

Retailers to Get Prizes for Best War Loan Displays

A total of $115,000 in war bond prizes will be awarded to retailers of America for the best window displays featuring the idea "buy an extra $100 war bond" during the Sixth War Loan, it was revealed today by H. E. Flath, local chairman for the Michigan Retailers War Savings Advertising Committee. The contest is the biggest of its kind ever to be undertaken, being sponsored by eleven prominent national manufacturers. It is managed and directed by the War Advertising Counsel. Five judges, to be announced later, will select the 110 prize winners from Michigan.

"This contest is for retailers classed as department stores, drug stores, gasoline stations and garages, furniture and floor covering stores, men's apparel shops, groceries, hardware stores, jewelry stores, radio stores, and women's apparel shops and specialty stores," stated Mr. Flath. "In each of these eleven classifications, a $25 war bond will be given to each of the five stores whose windows are judged the best, in addition to the honor of competing for sectional prizes. Michigan is in the section which includes Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin. The five top sectional winners in each classification will receive additional $50 war bond prizes, with the right to compete for national prizes. Thus a store may have a good enough display to win a state, sectional and national prize. Further, any store competes only against other stores in its own classifications."

Grouse Over Seven Years Old Killed

Lansing.—A sharp-tailed grouse that was wild-trapped in the western end of the upper peninsula seven years ago, leg-banded, and released near Trout Lake on the west side of Chippewa county, was shot by a hunter October 27. Conservation department game men say the bird's age is unusual. Transfer of the bird from the west to the east side of the peninsula was in connection with the department's first effort to widen the sharp-tailed range. Birds so transferred have apparently succeeded in establishing themselves in the vicinity of Trout Lake. The bird shot last week was released not far from the place it was killed.

Bonding Companies Make Up Shortage

Marquette, Wis.—Speaking for the special committee appointed by the county board to investigate the shortage of Warner A. Lund, former clerk of courts, District Attorney Norman B. Langill today said that a full and complete settlement of the shortage was effected at a meeting held here yesterday. The settlement must be approved at the annual meeting of the county board November 14.

The audit showed a shortage of $9,623.84. Of this amount, $1,825.48 was covered by a special bond executed in what was known as the Strangquist guardianship. The bonding company settled for this specific shortage, leaving a balance due the county of $7,798.36. The latter sum is being paid, plus $104 which the county claimed as interest on trust funds by the other surety companies.

Marquette county has thus received a 100 per cent settlement on the shortage set forth in the audit report," Langill said.

GOLD GOES FAR

Russians Penetrate Finnmark In Norway

The Russian advance westward from Petsamo into Norway may be facilitated by the new German-built highway connecting Petsamo with the Norwegian rail head and port of Narvik, the only highway that traverses this area. It was two years in building.

Before the war the longest continuous road was that from the northern town of Vardo southwest along the coast and then north to Tana. There were four or five short roads running inland for slight distances from fjord heads.

The eastern part of the province is largely tableland of low elevation which drops suddenly down to the sea, says the National Geographic society. Most of the mountains of far northern Norway rise abruptly from the sea. Fishing and trading stations cling to the steep shores of the many fjords.
